

Canadian Mennonite University (CMU) invites applications for a sessional instructor position to teach in the area of History.

Job Type: Contracted Sessional Instructor

Course Name: HIST-2040 History of Indigenous Peoples of Canada

Academic Area: History

Semester: Fall

Credit Hours: 3

Modality: In-Person

Timetable: TBD

Qualifications: Graduate degree in a related field, PhD preferred

Remuneration: $5377.38, inclusive of 6% vacation pay

Responsibilities:

- Course and assignment design and preparation (prior syllabi available upon request).
- Instruction, testing, marking/grading of assignments, including constructive feedback.
- A 3-credit-hour course entails 30 hours of class time over 12 weeks, or 2.5 hours per week.
- Availability to students via office hours or appointment.

CMU is a liberal arts university rooted in Mennonite traditions, chartered by the Province, and a member of Universities Canada. Applicants from all backgrounds are welcome.

Interested applicants should submit a CV by email with a brief note indicating interest and any relevant context in the body of the email in lieu of a cover letter. Inquiries and applications may be sent by email to Greg Wiebe, Executive Coordinator for the Vice-President Academic, gwiebe@cmu.ca. Please note that CVs will be shared with the chair of the relevant academic area.